

Rotary barrier face seal of the non-contact type seal with helical grooves for a housing and a shaft, comprising means for introduction of an external barrier fluid towards the sealing interface. Said barrier fluid prevents sealed process fluid from entering past the sealing interface, thus providing sealing means for hazardous or repugnant fluids.